Feedback comments

Delegates' feedback is an essential part of our commitment to the continuous appraisal and improvement of our high-quality training courses. At the end of each training course, we ask delegates to provide their rating of the course and feedback comments. We ask if we may share these comments on our website and in our marketing materials to provide insight to other analysts. We provide the option to display your comments along with your name, position and company, to display your comments anonymously or to not display any information. Where permission is given, feedback comments may be published in (not limited to) our company website, social media pages and news articles and publicity materials.

Photographs and videos

Our courses provide an interactive training experience, and photographs and videos help to illustrate the essence and style of the course to prospective delegates. Delegates are requested to sign in on each day of the course and on this signing in sheet we ask permission to use any photographs and videos taken during the course. Where permission is given, photographs and videos may be published in (not limited to) our company website, social media pages, news articles and publicity materials.

Online virtual classroom training courses

Anthias' live virtual classroom training courses will be recorded for training and quality purposes, to facilitate a one-time link for attendees to watch the recording in the event they have missed part of the live course and to provide on-demand access to the training course. By registering for the course you agree to the recording of the course. You may be referred to by your first name by the course instructor and if you choose to use your microphone, your voice will be recorded. During the live course, you can choose to use the private Q&A facility to type a question for the instructor and request to have it responded to privately. Or alternatively you can choose to ask the instructor a question privately after the course has finished and the recording stopped, or by email or by arranging a telephone call with the instructor. Before providing access to the recording, we anonymise the public Q&A and chat feeds, as well as removing the attendees pod.

Data sharing

We only share your information with service providers who enable us to deliver our products and services to you, such as the distributor of our e-mail newsletters (see E-newsletters section). If you ask us for help and it is outside of the scope of Anthias' services, then we can recommend a contact who we think will be able to help you. We will ask for your permission to share your email address and/or telephone number with that contact and only if you accept will we pass on that information, usually through an introductory email to you both.

Payments

We use WorldPay for credit/debit card payments. We do not store credit/debit card details.

Website Privacy

Our website is secured using SSL (Secure Sockets Layer) security protocol. All communication through our website is encrypted.
